LEVEL CROSSING REMOVAL UPDATE

The Victorian Government is removing two dangerous and congested level crossings along the Hurstbridge line, building a brand new Rosanna Station, and duplicating the single section of track between Heidelberg and Rosanna. This will make communities safer and get commuters in Melbourne's north east home sooner.

In June, our project team continued to widen the embankment between Darebin Street and Brown Street in Heidelberg, to make room for the new set of rail tracks. We also started foundation works at Darebin Street, where we will soon begin to dig a new underpass next to the existing brick tunnel.

In Rosanna, our project team has settled into their new site office and has started to install fencing around construction zones.

HURSTBRIDGE LINE
HEIDELBERG | ROSANNA
JULY 2017

In July and August, construction activities will occur in and around the railway line from Monday to Sunday, 7am to 7pm.

Occasionally, we will work overnight while trains are not running. This is to ensure the safety of our work crews and to allow for vehicles and machinery to access project sites.

What's coming up?

Heidelberg

- Relocating overhead wires within the railway line
- Earthworks within the railway line
- Foundation works near the Burgundy Street Bridge
- Foundation works near Darebin Street and Hawdon Street, to prepare for the new underpass next to the existing brick tunnel
- Upgrading a drain in and around Manton Street Reserve.

Rosanna

- Installing foundations around Rosanna Station, in preparation for the brand new station and rail bridge
- Relocating overhead wires within the railway line
- Closing the east side of Rosanna Station car park in order to maintain the safety of commuters, pedestrians and our work crew
- Making Ellesmere Parade one way (southbound) between Lower Plenty Road and Davies Street to provide space for alternative car parks during construction works.

24-hour works

- Friday 14 July to Monday 17 July
- Friday 25 August to Monday 28 August.

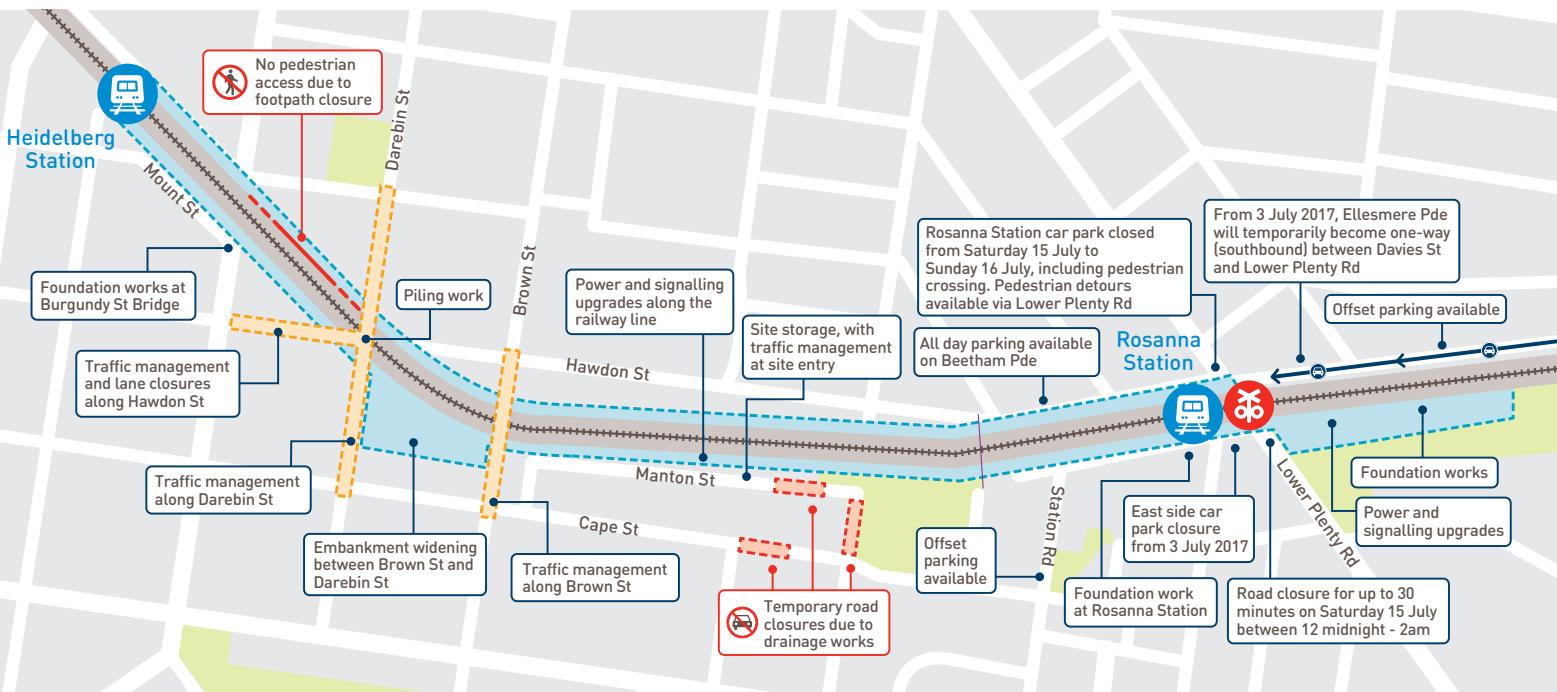

Additional night works

In order to safely upgrade the power and signalling infrastructure on the Hurstbridge Line, Metro Trains in conjunction with our project team will be undertaking works from Monday 17 July to Sunday 13 August. These works will not affect train services and are not expected to be disruptive to nearby residents.

Additionally, on certain nights during this period, construction works will be taking place in Heidelberg, and we will inform residents surrounding the works area closer to the dates.

Disruptions

- Buses will replace trains on the Hurstbridge line from approximately 8pm Thursday 13 July to last service between Clifton Hill and Greensborough
- Buses will replace trains on the Hurstbridge line from approximately 8pm Friday 14 July to last service Sunday 16 July between Clifton Hill and Macleod
- On Saturday 16 July, between 12 midnight and 2am, Lower Plenty Road, Rosanna will be closed for up to 30 minutes between Ellesmere Parade and Turnham Avenue
- Buses will replace trains on the Hurstbridge line from 8.15pm Friday 25 August to last service Sunday 26 August between Clifton Hill and Macleod
- Traffic management, including temporary pedestrian path, lane and road closures will occur near construction zones in Heidelberg and Rosanna. In July, sections of Manton Street, Cape Street and Fanning Street will close while we relocate a drain pipe.
